Morgan's Dock Revitalization Project

Manorhaven has finally made the dream a reality; the revival of historic Morgan's Dock has begun! The new gazebo illustrates the beginning of the Manorhaven's waterfront revitalization project. In addition to a new seawall and moorings, new benches, plantings and fencing will be installed in the coming months - a wonderful addition to this "Pearl of the Bay."

Keep an eye out for a special flyer announcing the Grand Opening of this park. The festivities will include a ribbon cutting ceremony and Village barbeque.

Morgan's Dock Site, Bowman's Point Road off Orchard Beach Blvd. For more information call Village of Manorhaven Town Hall 883-7000 or check the website www.manorhaven.org

From The Publisher

Pogo, Peception & Port

This column is dedicated to apologizing for being part of the problem. I, like many others here in Port, often discuss the problems we suffer. You know, empty store fronts, no large, anchor-type stores, the traffic and more. Include the lament that Main Street is a mile long but split into at least three distinct shopping areas making it difficult for shoppers to walk and enjoy. Why, we even have a dock that doesn't allow docking.

So, why are we here? More important, why do visitors from Manhattan, Connecticut, Forest Hills, Kew Gardens, Roslyn, Albertson, Mineola, The "Sides" (you know, Bay, Wood and Sunny) all come to Port on any given day?

Over the past several weeks, Jim Kallenberg, the new Executive Director of the Greater Port Washington Business Improvement District, better known as "The BID," has been actually asking visitors that question. The answers are logical, complimentary and probably shocking to the cynical locals - they like Port. This includes our waterfront, moorings, boating opportunities, our unique shops, the friendliness, the restaurants and, more than you might imagine, mentioned the Sands Point Preserve and other historical venues in the area. Does POGO always need to be right? Does the enemy have to be us? The next time we are ready to complain about something, let's remember just how great Port is, and say so. This can do a lot for our merchants, restaurants and other local businesses.

Port really is a great place to live, work, play and visit so, let's remember Pogo and not be quite so negative.

Visit and Tour The Sands-Willets House

336 Port Washington Blvd. • (516) 365-9074

www.cowneck.org • info@cowneck.org

Museum Hours/Tours: May through October, first & third Sunday of every month, 2-4pm July 20, August 3, August 17, September 7, September 21, October 5, October 19. Suggested donation: $5

Named for two distinguished Long Island families, the Sands and the Willets. The Sands lived in the house from 1715 to 1845 and were among the original settlers of Sands Point. They were merchants, farmers, and Patriot leaders – seven members of this family served in the American Revolution. Colonel John Sands II, served with George Washington's army. In 1845, the property was purchased by Edmund Willets, a prominent Quaker and abolitionist. The Society bought the Sands-Willets House from Miss Eliza Willets in 1967.

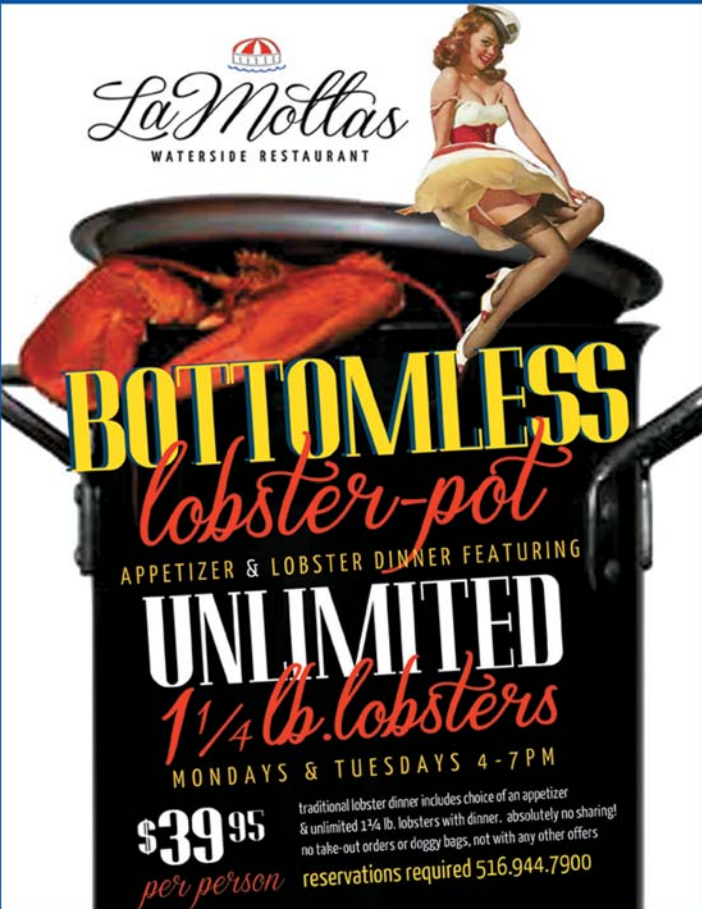

The house has 18 rooms, 11 of which are furnished and open to the public. The oldest portion of the house, the colonial kitchen, is believed to have been built by the Sands family around 1735. Edmund Willets added the Greek-revival style addition to the house.

The Sands-Willets House is typical of the prosperous Long Island farm houses of the 18th and 19th centuries. It is one of the few buildings of its kind still standing in Nassau County and the only one open to the public in the Town of N. Hempstead. The Sands-Willets House is a Village of Flower Hill Historic Landmark and is also listed on the State and National Registers of Historic Places.

The Cow Neck Peninsula Society maintains the house as a museum and educational center. Much work has been done over the years to restore and renovate the building – the c. 1735 bricked-over Sands kitchen hearth was uncovered, the high-ceiling 1840 wing was refurbished and furnished. However, the preservation process is a continuing one, demanding constant attention if this historical treasure is to continue to be an educational resource.

What is Sleep Apnea?

Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA) is a serious and lifelong medical condition

What Causes OSA?

During sleep, muscles relax, including those that control the tongue and throat. The soft tissue at the back of throat can sag, narrowing and constricting the airway. Symptoms of Sleep Apnea include snoring, excessive daytime sleepiness, pauses in breathing, dry mouth, or teeth grinding while sleeping.

Consider using a mouth appliance specifically created to treat Sleep Apnea.
