Tis the season...or is it?

Dave Allen

When I thought about this column for December I considered two distinct subjects... The way the internet has changed our habits ... and the joy of the season where we offer our best wishes to all.

The first idea came from seeing an ad on television for another App where you can ask about household vendors without having to talk with your neighbor.

That got me to thinking about what it was like when I purchased my first house outside of Detroit. We had moved to a neighborhood quite a distance from family and friends and really did not know anyone on the block.

The good news was we met the neighbors right next door and they were 'older,' maybe in their thirties.

They had lived in their house for a number of years and they were nice enough to introduce themselves and offer help anytime we needed.

Then came the first 'tragedy' in our new house: the hot water tank sprung a tiny pin hole leak that seemed to generate gallons of water all over the basement. Of course the tank was just that... a cast iron thing that did not look very friendly.

Being ignorant of this kind of thing I trekked next door and asked Otto if he knew who I should call. Instead he came over, looked at the culprit and went home to get some things. The things turned out to be a drill, a screwdriver, a metal screw with a neoprene (plastic) washer. In less than a minute he had drilled the tank and inserted the screw and my tank was good.

So, as we enjoy the season, I hope you have an Otto you can call on without resorting to some internet program. Just in case, why not actually walk next door or down the block (or hall), introduce yourself and make a new friend or two with a Happy Holiday, Merry Christmas greeting. Maybe sometime you may need an Otto, or be one.

Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah,

Dave Allen

Artists then created one-of-a-kind artworks in the medium of their choice – collage, photography, oil, acrylic or watercolors and donated it back to the Guild. Please visit the website and Facebook page for some of this year's offerings.

The proceeds from this fundraiser go toward the Guild's Education Fund, which awards scholarships to high school students pursuing careers in the arts, as well as other education related events and programs.

serts generously donated by local restaurants and supermarkets including Frank's Pizza, Wings Plus, Ayhan's Shish Kebab, Stop & Shop, Saint Honoré, Whole Foods, Uncle Guiseppe's, Bagel Boss of Roslyn, Restaurant Yamaguchi, DiMaggio's, Finn MacCool's.

The remaining artworks will be on exhibit and available to purchase for $100 through Sunday, January 7, 2018.
