It's Our Turn – Port Washington Restaurant Week

Dave Allen

Included in the plethora of announcements contained in this issue of the PW Calendar, is the information on Port Washington's own Restaurant Week. This opportunity to sample many of Port's terrific restaurants occurs October 15 through 22.

Aside from the fact that more than two dozen local eateries offer a Prix-fixe dinner for the bargain rate of just $25, there are literally hundreds of reasons for all of us to visit and show your support.

While attending the Chamber of Commerce Dinner and Installation of Officers the end of September, the conversations turned to the many events sponsored by the Chamber and other not for profit organizations.

These are all worthwhile endeavors in terms of bringing visitors to Port and for enhancing Port's unique quality of life.

However, these events could hardly be successful if it weren't for the donations in food, coupons, merchandise, ad book support, etc. by our own merchants... and the restaurants are a major component of this support.

Each of us quickly realized that this support, particularly from the restaurants is huge in value and frequency. This Calendar publishes information of more than 200 events each month, many of these have fundraisers of one sort or another and almost all implore the restaurants and others for support.

When you total it up, each restaurant, and other retailers, receive dozens, if not hundreds, of requests each year... and their generosity allows our not for profits to flourish.

Restaurant Week provides an economical opportunity to enjoy out restaurants and say Thank You for their generous support of the Port Washington way of life.
