PWPL UnGala Sept. 17 - Oct. 1

This September, the Port Washington Library Foundation presents its first Inspiration UnGala, in honor of the 125th anniversary of PWPL. Relax, go online and bid on fabulous auction items from the comfort of your home.

Visit www.inspirationgala.com to look at auction items, bid, sponsor and "attend" the UnGala! Bidding runs from Sunday, September 17 through Sunday, October 1.

Auctions include a week-long vacation in New Zealand wine country, a week at a five-star resort in Turks and Caicos, exclusive use of a private terrace overlooking MOMA, as well as jewelry and many more items.

The Port Washington Library Foundation raises funds to support the needs of the Port Washington Public Library not covered by taxes and helps to maintain its viability for future generations. Currently they are involved in a complete reimagining of the Children's Library projected to be completed in late 2017.

For more info call the library at 883-4400.

The Art Guild's Face & Figure Exhibit, September 2 – October 1, 2017

The Art Guild invites the public to view "Face and Figure" a Juried Competition and Exhibition Sept. 2 – Oct. 1, 2017. Gallery hours are Saturdays and Sundays from 1-5 pm or by appointment. A reception and awards ceremony will be held on Friday, Sept. 8 from 6-8 pm, at The Art Guild's home, Elderfields Preserve, 200 Port Washington Blvd., Manhasset, NY 11030.

The face and figure are challenging subjects for an artist. This exhibit, which features 58 works of art by 44 artists, will engage the viewers' appreciation for portraiture and the human figure and celebrates the human form in many styles and mediums.

The juror-of-awards for this exhibit is Diana DeSantis, a master pastel at the International Assoc. of Pastel Societies, a signature member of Pastel Society of America and a member of the Portrait Society of America. Her work has been shown at the Nassau County Museum of Art, Salmagundi Club and exhibits in France, Italy and Russia.

A call for artists has gone out for the next exhibit: Palate to Palette, The Art of Food and Dining, October 7-29. The deadline for entries is September 15. From a single shiny apple to elaborate thanksgiving dinners, food helps define tradition and culture, trigger memories and make new ones. Show us your favorites!

A full schedule of fall classes for children, high school students and adults are now open for registration on their website. Classes for adults include Drawing, Watercolor, Landscape in Oil, and Life Drawing with Nude Model (non-instructional). Children's classes for ages 5-7, and 8-12, start in October. Classes for middle and high school students will be announced soon.

Workshops are now registering for Relief Printing with Stephanie Navon-Jacobson, Sept. 9-10; The Floral Still Life with Gregg

Kreutz, Sept. 16-17, Make Your Colors Sing in Pastel with Lana Ballot, Nov. 11 & 12, and Colored Pencil with Kristy Kutch Apr. 22-24, 2018.

The gallery was voted Best Art Gallery 2017 in Blank Slate Media's annual competition. For more information please call 304-5797 or visit the website: www.TheArtGuild.org.

Save the Date! North Shore Animal League's Walk & Wag! October 1

Join North Shore Animal League's dog-friendly Walk & Wag on Sunday, October 1, 9am, at North Hempstead Beach Park. Help raise funds and awareness in support of NSAL's no-kill mission. Be a part of the walk as an individual, start your own team, or join a team to help save the lives of homeless dogs, cats, puppies, and kittens!

Festivities will include: NSAL's Mobile Adoption Unit with several adorable, adoptable animals; Canine Agility Course for all dogs; morning stretch before the walk, vendors, snacks and beverages.

This event is rain or shine, and will be fun for the whole family – including well-behaved canine family members! The $25 registration fee includes t-shirt for walkers and pet bandana for dogs. To register and more info: animalleague.org.

Save the Date! 28th Annual Party in the Park, October 1

Have the courts and lawyers taken us to the point of absurdity?

Dave Allen

I don't know about you, but it seems to me that the lawyers and courts have taken us on a path of revolving doors that only seem to help the law profession.

Let's take a look at the fine print on the bottom of almost any TV, print or internet ad. It contains disclaimers originally designed to be a real protection against misleading or dishonest headlines. We can certainly thank the lawyers for that. However, these same lawyers found a way around their own laws... make the type so small you cannot read it, or have it blend into the ad's background making it unreadable.

You know the copy I am referring to: the paragraph that you could not possibly read without a magnifying glass and a Philadelphia lawyer present - which says that with "the special offer of 24 monthly payments of $12 each for a new horseless carriage also included indenturing my first born and several thousand dollars in ransom."

This, of course, is followed up with a legal addendum to the contract you sign at Honest Horseless Carriages, Inc. saying you have read all the fine print in all the papers you are signing.

OK, so this isn't a news flash... and we all know that corporate management is now so paranoid about legal implications they cannot say or print anything without legal counsel. See how this goes around and around?

However a new line has begun to appear which convinces me the whole system has run amuck.

It is the one that appears regularly on TV. It is for a product that seems to be a prescription drug that will make my skin look like a teenager's (without the pimples, I trust). It is called XXXX (oops, lawyers again). The voice over provides all the standard possible reactions including some we usually relate to someone living on the streets.

The final line of warning, and proof we have gone over the edge, is "Do not to take XXXX if you are allergic to XXXX".

Cheers!

Terrific! We have now reached the point of no return. When do we say not to use a lawyer as you could be liable for legal decisions.

I know you have seen these disclaimers and conditions. They appear across the bottom of the ad and are normally in soft grey type on a background of a similar color. The same system is used on junk emails to hide the possibility of unsubscribing.

I don't know about you but I am almost afraid to try any new product for fear of a deadly reaction which, of course, was 'covered' in the products promotion.

It seems to me that the conditions of sale should be at least as obvious as the offers themselves.
