"I Wish I Had Known"

Almost ten years ago, The Port Washington Calendar of Events was conceived as a result of comments regarding the Chamber of Commerce SOUPer Bowl. The SOUPer Bowl soup tasting event was a great success and as word spread a number of folks expressed the most frustrating line a sponsor can here, "I wish I had known about it."

Dave Allen

The PW Calendar was begun to provide information on the dozens of events, meetings, seminars, entertainment venues BEFORE they happened. Today we publish between 200 and 300 separate coming events each month. I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge the retail establishments who support this effort with their advertising.

Next month the PW Calendar will introduce a new phase of this effort to inform residents and visitors alike. We will work to inform them of the many fine business establishments available right here in Port. Each month we will list a category of businesses or services you should know. These listings are free of charge (even though we would gladly accept their advertising).

The March listing will include the host of Summer Camps and programs available, including those dedicated to learning, sports, music or just plain fun. All we require is an email, to dave@pwcalendar.com, indicating the name, contact information and focus. We will also take suggestions from you, our reader, for any program you would like us to include in this effort.

Maybe will do one small part in diminishing the "I Wish I Had Known" line, and just maybe we can encourage everyone to do a little more local shopping.

By the way, the April listing will include spring cleaning, garden, pool and marine services, products and maintenance.
